ANOTHER NOTE WILL BE SENT

English Premier To Answer De Valera Early Next Week.

ENGLISH EXPECT
TWO CONFERENCES

To Cover Irish Situation and Peace Dealings.

Cabinet Members in Conference with Premier Lloyd George Find Latest Note from Ireland Very Unsatisfactory.

Inverness, Scotland, Sept. 22—Premier Lloyd George, at his holiday retreat at Gairloch, again conferred with members of his cabinet today on the Irish situation. It was reported that the cabinet members who have already consulted with the premier regard the latest note from Eamon de Valera as unsatisfactory. Although the premier is hopeful that an Irish peace conference can be arranged, it is impossible to forecast the date of it.

According to one opinion, there will be two conferences, the first of a preliminary nature. The premier is expected to send another note to de Valera early next week, possibly sooner.

Another Outbreak.
Belfast, Sept. 22—Soldiers and police patrolled the troubled districts of Belfast today, following another outbreak of firing during the night. A funeral party accompanying some victims was attacked.

A Sharp Note.

London, Sept. 22—Great Britain's note to the Russian soviet government relative to hostile activities of Bolshevik agents in the Near East and in India claims precedence in interest here over the Irish situation. Soviet Russia is accused of having carried on propaganda in Persia and Afghanistan with sending agents into eastern Afghanistan for the purpose of getting in touch with disorderly elements in India and with preventing a settlement of pending disputes between the Turkish Nationalists and the allied powers.

The soviet government was asked for assurances that these activities would cease, and it was intimated that the commercial agreement between this country and Russia would be impeded by continued hostile machinations by Bolshevik emissaries.

OLYMPIC RECORDS DANGEROUS VOYAGE

Passes Through Heaviest Storm
in All Her Experience.

New York, Sept. 22—In the log-book of the Olympic, which came to port yesterday, was the record of the most severe storm through which this gigantic vessel ever passed. It endured all last Friday, Saturday and Sunday and the waves which rose were sufficient almost to submerge the hull of the ship.

Ports were smashed and state-rooms flooded and for a long time it was dangerous for passengers to venture on the wave-swept decks. At times the powerful drive of the seas was sufficient to completely stop the liner. On Sunday she made only 375 miles when her normal speed should have carried her at least 500 miles.

NEW SECRETARY OF STATE TAX BOARD

COMMITTEE GOES BACK TO WASHINGTON

Personal Survey of West Virginia
Situation Finished.

Washington, Sept. 22—Realizing as never before the seriousness of the industrial situation in the West Virginia coal fields, but still at a loss to know what steps the federal government should take to bring the civil war in that state to an end, Senator Kenyon's special investigating committee consisting of himself and Senator Shortridge, returned to Washington today after a four-day personal survey of the disturbed area.

If the inquiry among miners, operators and state and county officials in Mingo, Logan and Kanawha counties accomplished nothing else, it has convinced the senate investigators that their efforts to get to the bottom of the bloody mountain wars in this region will not be completed until further probes are undertaken either here or in West Virginia.

The mine guard system, declared the unions to be one of the principal causes of the armed struggle between the opposing factions in the coal fields, will be one of the matters which will be thoroughly investigated and it was learned authoritatively today that Tom Felts of Bluefield, West Virginia, head of the Baldwin-Felts detectives, will be subpoenaed to tell the committee just how many of his operatives are employed by the coal operators and the number that now are serving as

GRAND JURY HEARS STORY

Friend of Arbuckle's Testifies at Los Angeles.

TESTIMONY HELD
HIGHLY IMPORTANT

Witness Says Arbuckle Confesses Certain Acts That Could Cause Death.

Los Angeles, Sept. 22—Admission declared to have been made by Roycoe ("Fatty") Arbuckle that he had used ice in an attack upon Miss Virginia Rappe during a party at the Hotel St. Francis, in San Francisco, were described by Al Semmacher, a friend of Arbuckle's, before the Los Angeles county grand jury, according to W. C. Doran, chief deputy district attorney. Arbuckle is held at San Francisco charged with murdering Miss Rappe. Doran said Semmacher swore Arbuckle told of applying ice to portions of Miss Rappe's body.

Doran outlined the testimony in confirming reports that Semmacher had made identical statements to him at an earlier time and then had declared that he had not, even at the San Francisco inquiry, told of the alleged admitted facts.

Semmacher testified that on the morning following the party, Arbuckle told him in the presence of Lowell Sherman, actor, Fred Fishback, director, and Harry McCullough, chauffeur, that he had taken Miss Rappe into a room with him and had committed certain acts in connection with the alleged crime. These acts, according to Chief Deputy Doran, were of a character likely to have caused the injury from which Miss Rappe's death resulted.

The grand jury session was called by Doran in order to hear this testimony, information concerning which was immediately conveyed to District Attorney Brady at San Francisco.

Harry McCullough, chauffeur for Arbuckle who was present when the alleged statements were made by Arbuckle, according to Semmacher's testimony, also was examined by the grand jury but his testimony was not made public.

Semmacher left for San Francisco.

Thieves Have Nerve.

Akron, Sept. 22—Auto thefts may be less in Ohio, but the nerve of the thieves shows no shrinkage. Last night, when he stepped out of the county jail to find someone had taken his car, Hutchinson says he hadn't been out of the car five minutes all told when some thief took possession and drove it away. "And right in front of the county jail talk about nerve, will you?"

Viewing Wreckage.

Zanesville, Sept. 22—Many visitors from the nearby countryside poured into this city today while scores of workers removed the debris from the streets which was scattered there by the high wind attending the storm which hit Zanesville yesterday.

HINTS FOR THE MOTORIST

ALBERT L. CLOUGH

Editor Motor Service Bureau, Review of Reviews

The Electric Starter

THE MOST USUAL WAY OF APPLYING the power of an electric motor supplied with current from the storage battery, to turn the engine over for starting purposes is by a gear connection, consisting of a pinion carried by the motor armature shaft meshing directly (or indirectly, through intermediate gearing) with a large gear carried on the face of the engine flywheel. As the turning power of the electric motor is required only until the engine starts under its own power, there are four stages in the starting operation. The mechanical connection of the motor to the engine by meshing the gears the supplying of current to the motor to cause it to turn the engine over, the mechanical disconnection of motor and engine and the cutting off of current from the motor. These operations may all be performed by a pedal moved by the operator, or they may be partly automatic. Since a very powerful effort is required to rotate the engine and the electrical energy available is limited, the motor must be one designed for low speed and very high turning power or the torque which it produces must be increased by intermediate speed reduction gearing before being applied to the fly wheel. In the former case a motor with more than one pair of field poles and an armature and brush equipment to correspond is generally required, as motor speed is reduced and torque is increased, somewhat in proportion to the number of times per revolution that the armature conductors pass field poles. In the latter case the ordinary, two-pole motor can be used. Unlike those of the generator the starting motor field-coils are series-wound, that is, the whole current passes through both field and armature windings, in order to secure strong turning effect, by which construction the field magnetism increases with the current flow through the armature conductors and a very powerful torque is set up in the armature. In the two-unit starting and lighting system to which this article refers the starting motor is a machine entirely separate and distinct from the generator and is used in the starting operation only while in the single unit system generator and starting motor are, to a certain extent, combined in a single machine. In the accompanying

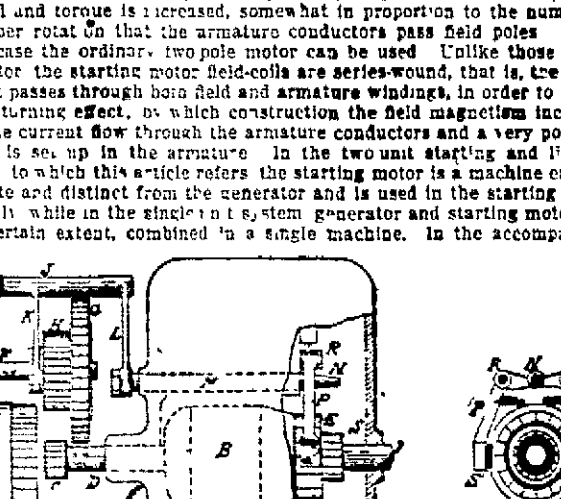

Diagram is illustrated in principle the construction and operation of one form of manually operated electric motor starter. Here (Fig. 1) the armature shaft D of the two-pole motor (with armature at B and commutator at E) carries the pinion on gear C. Attached to the frame of the motor and usually enclosed in the same housing is the shaft F arranged parallel to shaft D, on which gears G and H can slide as a unit under the action of shipper K and rod J. Rod J is arranged to be moved away from the motor by the depression of the starting pedal and is returned to its illustrated position by means of a strong spring. Rod J also carries the shipper L, which is fastened to and slides the red M in bearings in the motor frame. The inside end of M is cone-shaped at N and against it bear the short arm ends of the brush holders PP (See Fig. 2), which are of bell-crank shape, pivoted at RR. Spring S tends to draw brush-holders F together and to bring brushes SS into contact with commutator E, under which condition, as there is no switch in the circuit, current is supplied to the motor and it starts. However, the springs can contact the brushes only when rod M is slid away to the left, thus bringing the small end of cone N against the brush holder arms. When M is partly or wholly slid toward the right, an enlarged portion of N comes into contact with the brush-holder arms, forcing them apart into the illustrated position. With brushes S off the commutator and keeping the motor circuit interrupted. The brush-lifting device operated by the pedal takes the place of an ordinary starting-switch. When the starting pedal is depressed, shipper K acts to move gears H and G to the left, meshing with fly-wheel gear A and G with armature pinion C simultaneously, both fly-wheel and armature being at rest. As the diameter of C is very much less than that of G and the diameter of H very much less than that of A, the motor is geared down very greatly indeed and operates at great mechanical advantage. Shipper L is meanwhile moving rod M to the left and the brush holder arms are lowering until finally, when the gears are fully in mesh, the brushes touch the commutator. The motor starts, turning the engine over and starting is effected. This instant that the engine begins to fire, the operator releases the pedal, when its spring throws rod J to the right, draws the gears out of mesh and lifts the brush, restoring the apparatus to its illustrated condition ready for another starting operation.

Questions of general interest to motorist will be answered in this column, space permitting. If you wish this answer is desired, enclose self-addressed, stamped envelope. Address: Albert L. Clough, care of our office.

A PRELIMINARY HEARING TODAY

Arbuckle's To Appear in Court
This Afternoon.

AUTHORITIES WILL DECIDE ON CHARGE

Morning Is Spent in Preparation for Hearing—Missing
Witnesses Sought.

San Francisco, Sept. 22—Whether or not Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle, round comedian of the movies, must face jury trial for murder, was to be decided at the preliminary hearing on the charges against him opening in police court this afternoon. The hearing was expected to give the first real inkling of the defense of Arbuckle against the charge of the state that he, by an attack caused injuries which resulted in the death of Virginia Rappe.

Today the defense has maintained an impenetrable silence, but will open examination of the witnesses to be placed on the stand by the state in an effort to secure commitment of Arbuckle to the trial before the superior court for murder, the determined battle to free the former film star was to be under way.

The morning was spent in feverish preparation for the opening of the hearing. Frank Dominguez, chief counsel for the defense arrived from Los Angeles and plunged into conference with his assistants, Milton Coken and Charles H. Brennan.

On the same train came Al Semmacher, manager of the dead film actress, whose story before a Los Angeles grand jury, late yesterday, injected a new sensation into the case. Semmacher was taken before District Attorney Matthew Brady for further questioning as to his sworn statement that Arbuckle had admitted the commission of an act against Virginia Rappe which might have resulted in her illness.

Arbuckle's alleged admission was made, according to Semmacher in the presence of Fred Fishback, Lowell Sherman and Harry McCullough.

Fishback has already been questioned regarding it and made, according to the district attorney, "an evasive reply."

Denies Story.
To newspaper men, however, Fishback passed the lie to Semmacher's statement pointblank, denying that Arbuckle had ever discussed in his presence what took place in the hotel room.

Lowell Sherman apparently was beyond questioning.

No word has been received from Sherman by District Attorney Brady since his disappearance on a train bound for New York City. A report was current here that Sherman was enroute for Europe when he left Los Angeles for the East.

District Attorney Brady, however, was of the opinion that Sherman will return as a witness. Should he fail to do so, voluntarily, it was intimated an indictment will bring about his extradition.

Harry McCullough, Arbuckle's chauffeur, was to be questioned regarding his knowledge of the alleged Arbuckle admission.

District Attorney Brady planned a brisk presentation of his case against Arbuckle. He anticipated that one full day would enable him to lay his case before Police Judge Sylvian Lazarus. As an evidence that he expected the defense to make strenuous efforts to free Arbuckle at his hearing, was shown by his estimate that the defense might take two days.

Defense attorneys made no estimate. Judge Lazarus, before whom the case was heard, had three courses open to him after hearing the evidence:

- 1—Hold the prisoner for trial for murder.
- 2—Hold him for trial on any degree of murder, including manslaughter.
- 3—Dismiss all charges against Arbuckle.

This would not affect the manslaughter indictment pending.

Some Anxiety.

For the first time, today, anxiety was expressed by the district attorney's office because of the failure of Dr. Beardie to put in an appearance. One of the first physicians to attend Miss Rappe, he left on a hunting trip before her death and was located only last Saturday in a wild mountain country. He agreed to return and should have arrived Tuesday. A detective was assigned, today, to search for him.

At the same time, careful inquiry was being made into the identity of the mysterious "Edna Grant." Two letters have been received from Miss Grant promising an important story in the Arbuckle case. The latest received last night, said she would appear Monday and bring with her another nurse who could corroborate her story. In the letter she said she had been threatened with death after writing her first letter.

Although District Attorney Brady would not make public his first witness to be examined, this afternoon, it was understood that Dr. Shelby Strang, official autopsy surgeon, would be heard first. Other witnesses

OHIO INDUSTRY IS THREATENED

Buckeye State Beet-Sugar People Worried.

RAILROAD FREIGHT
RATES TOO HIGH

Cuban and Eastern Sugar Interests Have Advantage—Testimony Given Commission.

Columbus, Sept. 22—That Ohio beet-sugar industry was cooked by the Cuban and eastern sugar interests, unless railroad freight rates in Ohio are reduced, the claim made by F. R. Hines, secretary-treasurer of the Ohio Beet-Sugar company, testifying at a hearing being conducted by the utilities commission relative to a railroad freight rate situation in Ohio.

Similar testimony was offered representatives of other Ohio sugar companies who desire that freight rates be reduced before beet season starts, early in October.

Declaring that the rate on limestone, a low-grade material, is 12 cents, compared with the average freight rate, on all commodities high and low grades, in Ohio 28.9 cents, for a car a mile C. Hutchings, Chicago, traffic manager of the American Farm Bureau federation, told the commission that rate on limestone should be lowered at least to twenty-five cents.

FRENCH ARMY
SENDING HELP

Continued from Page One.

Mannheim today. The plants had been damaged by the blast.

Late despatches estimate the total damage at 200,000,000 marks—normally $66,000,000 in American money—of which 135,000,000 marks
is covered by insurance.

At the Mannheim offices of the Badische Anilin company it was learned that 4,000 tons of saltpetre that was stored in the plant had exploded. The saltpetre had previously been examined and pronounced safe and "unexplosive."

The Red Cross has started relief expeditions for the scene.

Scores of families are camping in the open. Many are cooking their meals on the smoking debris. Atmospheric fumes permeate the atmosphere many miles around.

Many French soldiers were injured.
They were on ten French Rhine boats which patrol the river near Mannheim.

French troops, both black and white, are now on duty at Oppau.

Three hundred of the dead have been identified, according to a message from Mannheim today.

Crater Blasted.
The crater dug out of the earth
by the terrific blast was 170 yards long and 150 yards wide. Soon after the blast water began seeping into the great hole from underground springs, opened up by the force of the explosion.

Debris was piled thirty feet upon scores of bodies. Relief workers saved the lives of many injured
workmen who were buried eighteen feet under the debris.

Some children were killed by the explosion force, while they lay in their beds. At Mannheim, many jumped from windows in panic.

Frankfort has sent a caravan of doctors and stretcher-bearers who had experience in the war, the relief workers arriving in automobile trucks.

The force of the blast can be gauged by the fact that nine gas reservoirs at Oppau, each containing 50,000 cubic meters of explosives, have entirely disappeared.

a few minutes later the stock was selling at 86 1/4. The stock showed an opening gain of 1 3/8 points. In

MRS. HAROLD G. MCCOY
SAYS HUSBAND'S CRUEL

Defendant Counters in Suit for Divorce.

SHE HELPS BUY AUTO
ON INSTALLMENT PLAN

Trial of the Case of W. S. Emerson Against Columbia Cheese Company Postponed.

Charges of gross neglect and extreme cruelty are preferred against the plaintiff in the answer and cross-petition of the defendant filed in the common pleas court this morning in the divorce suit of Harold G.
McCoy against Cora M. McCoy. The pleading was filed through Carhart & Warner.

Mrs. McCoy alleges that she did everything to make their married life happy and during the greater portion of the time worked for the Marion Glass Manufacturing company, turning her wages over to the plaintiff to assist in keeping the home and paying for an automobile which they purchased on the installment plan. She charges the plaintiff quarreled with and abused her until she finally consented to an illegal operation, which nearly caused her death, and from which she is still suffering. She also charges that for almost a year the defendant has quarreled with her, that he is in the possession of the automobile and will dispose of it. She claims he is earning $35 a week.

The defendant asks dismissal of the petition of the plaintiff, a divorce, a temporary injunction to restrain the plaintiff from selling or encumbering the automobile, protection of her interest in the machine, alimony and restoration of her maiden name of Hart.

Cheese Company Trial Postponed.

Trial of the case of W. S. Emerson against the Columbia Cheese company, of Newark, New Jersey, set for tomorrow in the common pleas court, has been postponed by Judge Grant E. Mouser because of the illness of W. P. Moloney, attorney for the defendant. Mr. Moloney is ill of la grippe. The plaintiff is suing for $632.44 alleged due him as commissions and a balance due for the purchase of poultry, which he bought and paid for as agent for the defendant.

Demurrer to Second Offense.

A demurrer to the second offense
in the defendant's answer and cross-petition on the ground that the facts are insufficient in law to constitute a defense was filed by the plaintiff
this morning in the common pleas court in the suit of the Weldman company against John St. Clair and John Sakol. The demurrer was filed through Carhart & Warner.
The plaintiff is suing for $400 on an account.

Preference Given.

Columbus, Sept. 22.—Preference will be given by the state industrial commission to bonds whose proceeds are to be used in affording employment for idle workers. The com-

Ohio that it is ready to buy bonds

magnate, who died at his Fifth avenue home in 1919, was a resident of the Keystone state.

Under the decision Pennsylvania
will receive the state inheritance and transfer tax on the estate, which had been claimed by the controller of New York state. The exact amount of the tax will be determined later.

Although Mr. Frick's fortune
amounted to $92,000,000 only about $25,000,000 of it was in this state.
Much of his property in New York
is not subject to taxation.

Cutting Expenses.

Columbus, Sept. 22.—A plan devised by the Columbus school board for reducing employment of temporary substitute teachers to a minimum is expected to save about $5,000 of a threatened $50,000 deficit. The plan provides that, in cases where only one teacher is absent from a school building for one or two days, the principal of the building is to teach the classes of the absent teacher, thus eliminating the need for employing a substitute teacher.

The word "father" appears in the Bible nearly five times as often as "mother."

JOHN BISHOP DROWNS
HIMSELF IN OLD WELL

Brother of Mrs. Charles Fogle,
of This City.

BOYD IS RECOVERED
NEAR MILFORD CENTER

Wealthy Marion County Farmer
Had Been Ill—Funeral Will Be Held Friday.

John Bishop, aged forty-nine years, a prominent and well-to-do farmer, residing between North Lewisburg and Milford Center, committed suicide some time Tuesday afternoon by drowning himself in an abandoned well on the rear of his farm. His body was not recovered until yesterday. Ill health is given as the cause.

Mr. Bishop had been ill with a nervous affliction for about two years, and was worse at times than others. He took treatment in a sanitarium for about three months, and becoming much better returned home. Mr. Bishop had been in bed
most of the summer, but for the past three weeks had been feeling better than usual and was up and around.

in Old Well.

Tuesday afternoon Mr. Bishop disappeared from his home and when he did not return in a reasonable time, a searching party was organized, but he could not be located.
About 8 o'clock Wednesday morning a neighbor, Charles Thompson, and others, while on the rear of the farm, concluded to investigate an old well, and they discovered a cap floating on top of the water, and knew that Mr. Bishop's body was at the bottom.

The old well had been covered over, tightly with boards, two of which were removed by Mr. Bishop, after which he dropped off into the served there since the early days of the Roosevelt administration and

during this time
has made many prominent men of the country.

"Larry," as he is famously known
about the White

his kindness, tact
and courtesy.
"Larry" was placed in charge
when Sergeant
Dalrymple went on his vacation, and his work in the short time he has been in charge has elicited much praise from those with whom he comes in contact.

The well was about fifteen feet deep and there was a little over seven feet of water in it.

The body was removed with the aid of hooks and ropes, and placed in a truck and removed to the home.
Indications showed that he had been dead for several hours.

Married Twenty-Six Years.

Twenty-six years ago, near November Mr. Bishop was married to Miss Barbara Weaver, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Weaver, deceased, who survives with two children, a daughter and a son, Mrs.
Leona Nelson, wife of Chester Nelson, of Milford Center, and Harold Bishop, who operated his father's 200-acre farm. Mr. Bishop is also survived by three sisters,
Mrs. Adam Streng, of Marysville; Mrs. George Blumenschein, residing northwest of Marysville, and Mrs.
Charles Fogle, of Marion; also three brothers, Emanuel and George Bishop, of near Chucky and Philip

Miss Anna Bishop, resides in Union county.

MAN WHO DARES

The International Sunday-School Lesson for September 25 is "A Quakerly Review."—Gal. 6:1-10.

BY WILLIAM T. ELLIS.

Recently I was on a fishing trip with a Princeton student, an oarsman, and in the quiet exchange of confidence which fishermen know he mentioned "a close squeak" he once had on the Hudson river. I elicited the details by questioning. It was winter, and my friend, with a companion, had been duck-shooting. They were returning home, their small boat heavily laden with guns and game, beside themselves. Half way across the river the waves grew so high that the tiny craft began to whip water. In a few minutes it would sink, and there was no help in sight.

"I was the heavier, so it was up to me to jump," said my friend; so, without ado, he jumped overboard and, swimming, helped propel the almost submerged boat. Only those who have tried to move a boat filled with water, know how difficult is the task. Shore was half a mile away. A strong wind was blowing. The river was full of cakes of ice, which hit both swimmer and boat. The water was literally freezing; only one in perfect physical condition could have survived. Again and again it seemed as if the attempt to reach land could not succeed. With one man rowing and the other pushing while swimming, they finally made it; and then in clothes that cracked and cracked with the quickly-formed ice, they trudged a mile to the shelter and warmth and recuperation of home.

Like a chorus the remark of that Princeton student keeps recurring to me. "It was up to me to jump." Desperate emergencies, such as that in which the world now finds itself, call for quick and desperate remedies. The ship of civilization is really imperiled. It is up to some of us to "jump" to help her reach shore with all her precious cargo. Unless, in this grave hour, a sufficient number of the strong swimmers take to the water, no man can tell what may befall.

One Man Who Jumped
For three months past most of the Sunday-schools of the world, with their thirty million members, have been studying about a man who dared to "jump." Paul saw the crisis that had come to his time. The need and the remedy were clear to his penetrating eye. So he plunged overboard into the bravest, biggest task ever attempted by mortal. His "jump" carried him over a large part of the known world. He saved Christianity to its universal mission. By his audacity and Christian imperialism, the Gospel of Christ was spread to the limits of the Roman empire. It was proved a universal faith. He established the church in Europe, and occidentalized her teaching.

During the war we used to study huge maps of the front, displayed before newspaper offices and in stores and elsewhere that we might read the despatches in the light of the geographical background. All of our reading of the classics and of the New Testament had never burned upon our brains the reality of the Hellenistic as did those dread and dramatic days when we watched the news from Gallipoli. There are spots in France that are more real to some of us than any place in our own homeland except that in which we live. This present course of Sunday-school lessons give us the geographical background of the Epistles which form so large a part of the New Testament. Because we have studied the places and the people and the circumstances, the letters addressed to them by the great missionary Apostle should glow with life and reality. Every one of them is linked with his heroic adventures.

Dare We "Jump?"
As Billy "jumped" into the Hudson, as Paul "jumped" into the perilous world, so, just now, some persons who are reading these lines will have to "jump" into the sorry, perilous sea of present condition to help the world.

Here is the situation: Not since the days of the Saracens and of Kublai Khan has established human society been in such dire danger as now. Its only hope—this is the burden of every one of these lessons—is the spirit and gospel of Jesus Christ. Its only help is in the men and women who see that this supreme spiritual remedy must be applied quickly and effectively. The call from the West that came to Paul was no more insistent and important than the call which comes from both East and West to us. In a more real and practical and immediate sense than the old theologians and missionaries know, Christianity is today the one hope of the world. Upon that point statesmen, economists, sociologists, business men and preachers are agreed.

Therefore the paramount duty of the hour is to "jump" with this life-saving message. There are a thousand ways of doing so. One man may be forced, from Pauline motives, to run for public office. Another may be led to go into bigger, better business. His neighbor may feel constrained to quit business and enter distastefully Christian work. Many will see that the most immediate and practicable step is to organize a Sunday-school class of boys and girls, or an entire Sunday-school. Some, patient, strong and far-sighted, will gather about them groups of young people in order to "make disciples" for Christian patriotism and world-service.

A few may become missionaries or preachers. A great number will catch a vision of the place and power of ministering homes. The avenues and methods are countless; it is the purpose that is the thing. Somehow, anyhow, the great soul will bear a part in applying the Christian remedy to our smitten, sore and sick world.

If the wonderful story of the two first missionary journeys of Paul have any practical significance for this year of our Lord, 1931, it must be that we are to help bring to bear upon our contemporary life the transforming power of Christ. Personal piety is not enough; assent to religious teachings is not enough; intellectual conviction of Christianity's place is not enough; there must be of us to make the Pauline "jump," some definite participation in a broad-gauge effort to transform our troubled world by the peace of Christ.

As One Layman Does It.
I have a friend, a business man, whose "career" is a Sunday-school. Deliberately and definitely, he has chosen to make his greatest contribution to his generation by way of the leadership of a Sunday-school, of which he is superintendent. Because he is bound to do a vital and abiding thing, he had cut loose from many of the social interests that occupy other men's time, and he gives his brains and his nights and his money to planning and working for a group of about five hundred young people. Because he is big and brave and genuine, he is not content with a perfunctory organization, drifting along comfortably and usefully; he is out to transform lives.

Progressive in his outlook, like the Apostle Paul, he never loses sight of the central truth that it is the Bible and its Christ that alone can make over human beings and organized society. All the resourcefulness of a modern business man are applied to the fascinating task of vitalizing his Sunday-school members. This past summer for instance he has got pledges from more than four hundred of them to "read and re-read" after a definite plan, the gospels and the Acts, attractive copies of which are given to the convenancers. A series of questions cleverly designed to stimulate real thought, accompany the Bible-study plan. For my friend knows full well that when he is impregnating young people with the Scriptures, he is rearing pillars for the support of the nation and of the world.

Paul's Converts.
This one business man, like every other Christian worker, is better equipped for his work than was the Apostle Paul. We often overlook the tremendous accumulation of aids for Christian service which the church today possesses. Imagine the missionary Apostle with railways and steamships and automobiles and telephones and telegraphs and wireless and post offices and printing presses at his disposal! He had so little and did so much; we have so much and do so little. One of the gratifying signs of the times is the widespread increase of interest on the part of church folk in the subject of cooperation with the daily newspapers. When this fully flowers and fruits, we shall see every daily paper in the land carrying Christian news and teachings.

In another way the church today is better off than those Paul founded. We have a Christian background, instead of a gross heathen setting. We have an accumulation of Christian teaching and a worldwide Christian organization. They had only Paul himself; and some of them were not big enough to discern through his physical limitations his real greatness. They had no written gospel; Paul's own letter to the Thessalonians was the first book of the Christian canon. We have the whole New Testament, accessible, in more than five hundred languages, to every people under heaven. The full sweep of Christian teaching is valuable to us.

With heroic and audacious Paul, his missionary enterprise was a real "jump" into the unknown and perilous; in our case, it is scarcely a "jump" at all, for we have great and highly-organized and efficient missionary societies to carry on the task he began. Our machinery for service is prodigious. As we listen to the same call that he heard—now coming with regular insistence—we find the way open to East and West, North and South. If this six months of study in the experiences of Christianity's first great missionary does not have an appreciable effect upon the treasures of the mission boards, then we are only idle theorists and unfit students. One cause for gratitude that this course of missionary studies has come just now is that it may help overcome the financial deficits which world-wide financial conditions have forced upon most missionary organizations. The Sunday-schools should just now rally to the help of the boards. It is Pauline to stand by the biggest enterprise for world service you can find. Most of us will have to "jump" into the work of reclamation by way of the contribution box.

BARNYARD GOLF IS
FEATURE OF THE FAIR

That is, it's the "Liner" of Yesterday Afternoon.

WHEN RAIN STOPPED
STAGING OF THE RACES

H. J. Reoley of Green Camp, is Leader—Race Events for Today.

Weather before noon indicated it would be ideal for the Marion County fair and the early arrival of visitors in the city indicated a large attendance. The rain of Wednesday placed the grounds in excellent shape this morning.

The track was worked some Wednesday evening and this morning and is in fine shape for the five harness events on the card today. The St. Mary's school and some of the county schools closed today for the fair and the city schools and all of the county schools will be closed Friday. The Marion Steam Shore company has closed down for the remainder of the week and some of the other shops will only work part time to give the employees a chance to attend the fair. The Star went to press at noon, as is the custom on Thursday of the fair, and a number of merchants closed their places of business at the noon hour.

Although the races of the Marion County fair were called off Wednesday, on account of the heavy morning rains, and the fair is to be continued over to and including Saturday, more than 1,000 people made their way to the grounds to view the exhibits and they were afforded plenty of entertainment in various ways. Some of the concessions were running and exhibitors were on hand to give out any desired information.

The rain stopped the entertainment in the way of racing, but one of the fair features was pulled off in part. The harness pitching contest for the championship of Marion county was started on schedule with twenty-eight participants. There were more entries than the failure to appear eliminated a number. The contest attracted considerable interest and is being hard fought. At the time of quitting H. J. Reoley, of Green Camp was the leader with ten victories and no defeats.

Reoley displayed great form in pitching the shoe and is considered the champion in this line in the vicinity in which he resides. In one of his games he defeated his opponent in eight frames, registering five ringers during the game. The contest will continue until all the participants have met and on Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock the championship match will be started between Charles Bobbitt, world champion, and Brusk, who held the honor previous to Bobbitt. This contest will be in full view of the audience.

The rain of Wednesday morning put the grounds in excellent shape and the fair patrons will not have to put up with the dust that has so frequently been a source of much displeasure. The track was quite dry Wednesday evening and will be ready for working at regular intervals for the races this afternoon.

PAIR NOTES.
By combining the three racing programs into two, there will be five races on the card today and five Friday. In order to finish them all the horses will be called at 12 o'clock and the racing will start at 12:30. The track is being worked this morning and will be in good shape for racing.

The ladies of the Christian church on West Church street are conducting the lunch stand under the grandstand. There is a large force of help and they are putting out a fine lunch.

Mt. Olive band furnished the music for the fair Wednesday. There is also a band composed of a man and woman and seven of their nine children, who play and take up collections for their living.

The display of poultry at the fair this year is exceptionally large and it very much resembles the shows held by the association each year. There are rabbits of all kinds and sizes and all kinds of fowl.

More people are visiting the stock barns this year than in past years and this is probably due to the large amount of stock on display. The size of some of the stock is almost beyond reason and a visit to the barns is like going to a show.

The Red Cross first aid tent is located on the west side of the fruit and vegetable hall just north of the art hall. A corps of nurses under Mrs. Esther Mack, health nurse, and a number of Boy Scouts are in charge and they are in readiness to render first aid in most any kind of a case.

GAS TO BE OFF SUNDAY, TUESDAY AND THURSDAY
This Announcement is Made by Manager Mickley Today.

Manager M. A. Mickley, of the local Gas company, today announced that the gas would be turned off again Sunday, Tuesday and Thursday of next week.

Sunday the gas will be turned off from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m., while the hours for Tuesday and Thursday are from 12 to 5 p. m.

Gas consumers were without the use of the commodity today from 12 to 5 o'clock.

The work of repairing the mains is progressing nicely.

CITY IN BRIEF

Eagles Institute Two.—Two candidates were initiated and three applications for membership were received at a largely attended meeting of the Eagles, Wednesday night. Plans were made for the selection and appointment of the social committee for the year at the meeting next Wednesday night.

Work Visa Trial.—A son was born Tuesday to Mr. and Mrs. Matt J. Ferries. The child was born in a tent on north State street, where the family is temporarily residing. They were former residents of Columbus and are traveling through the country. Mr. J. Ferries is a machinist. Both Mr. J. Ferries and his wife were born in Iowa and also Mr. J. Ferries' parents and five sisters.

Accounting Bureau Clerks.—Hosts of the Erie Accounting bureau entertained at the hotel at Waldo Wednesday evening as a bridal courtly to Miss Mary Florence Burke, shop accountant, who is to be married October 5 to Mr. Ray Wertman. She has been in the service of the Erie for about six years.

About thirty were present, the guests being Mrs. J. P. Huling, Mrs. W. B. Spencer, Mrs. R. W. Wilhelm, and Messrs. Earl Ralston, Ellis Bonnen and Robert White. Miss Burke was presented a linen table cloth.

Boy Scouts Elect.—Troop No. 1, Boy Scouts, met at the scout room of the Y. M. C. A. last night. An election of officers was held and Clarence Boyd was elected scribe and Cecil Moloney was elected treasurer. New scouts were given tests and presented tenderfoot pins. Those receiving pins were Carroll Schmidt, Joseph Rihner, Harry Blair and Arthur Zachman. Arrangements were made and scouts detailed to assist at the Red Cross tent at the fair, Friday, and to guard the race track. The meeting was attended by twenty-five scouts and plans were made for the initiation to be held at their next meeting.

RESIGNS AS PRESIDENT,
NOW IS VICE PRESIDENT

Ivan Mayfield, Still Officer, in Harding Hi-Y Club.

SUPPER IS ENJOYED BY CLUB LAST EVENING

Football Schedule Will Be Made Public Soon. It is Announced. Future Plans.

The first meeting of this school year of the Harding Hi-Y club was held last evening at the Y. M. C. A. building. A supper was enjoyed before the business session. Immediately after the supper the meeting was called to order by President Ivan Mayfield. A number of songs were sung by the club followed by a scripture reading by Roy Wagner. The roll call and secretary's report followed, showing that seventeen of the eighteen members were present, which is a good start for the club as far as attendance is concerned. The treasurer's report shows that the club has a fair financial basis to begin the new year.

Ivan Mayfield resigned as president and Vice President Virgil Wetzel was installed to fill the vacancy. Mayfield being disqualified for the presidency. An action was then conducted to elect a new vice president. The names of Elmon Starr and Ivan Mayfield were mentioned.

Five New Members.
Mr. Mayfield was chosen. Five names were submitted for membership, but it was decided to take no action on these until a membership committee could be appointed.

Interesting discussions were given by Elmon Starr and Virgil Wetzel, who were delegates to the Hi-Y camp at Fort Ancient during the latter part of August.

The club decided to conduct different activities in the high school this year and began by publishing the fall football schedule which will be put out soon. The club hopes to secure a large number of active members from the three upper classes of the local high school. Upon discussing the expense of the supper it was decided that different members would do the cooking so to be economical. In union with the art Frank Kochensperger and Frank Selfield agreed to get the supper next Wednesday evening.

SOCIETY

The Worth White club met with Mrs. Carson Shetterly, of Windsor street, Wednesday afternoon. Four new members were taken into the club—Mrs. Jesse Dowler, Mrs. George D. Stevenson, Mrs. H. D. Morrill and Mrs. Richard Thomas. Arrangements were made to hold an all-day meeting in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Orville Barnhart, south of the city.

The Silver Crescent club met with Mrs. William Rankin, of Willow street, Wednesday afternoon. In a contest the guest's award went to Mrs. George T. Myers, and Mrs. George Kehlwald won the club honors. The consolation trophies went to Mrs. George Smith and Mrs. Floyd Ward.

The guests were Mrs. L. E. Patton, Mrs. George T. Myers, Mrs. Harry Baldwin, Mrs. T. B. Shannon, Mrs. Frank Purinton and Mrs. John Neldhart.

CHURCH SOCIETY

Epworth Circle.
The members of the Dorcas circle, of St. Paul's English Lutheran church, met Wednesday evening with Miss Ida Burge at her home on Carter avenue. In a contest the first award was given to Mrs. Irlin R. Van Arman and Mrs. Laura Bell was consoling. Arrangements were made for a Halloween social to be held at the home of Miss Laura Bell, of Bellefontaine avenue, the third Wednesday in October.

Parkersburg Foster Speech.
Rev. Roscoe Murray, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church, Parkersburg, West Virginia, spoke at the Memorial Baptist church last night.

SECRET SOCIETY

Marion Masonic Council.
Masonic Council, No. 22, Royal and Select Masters, met in regular session at the Masonic temple, Wednesday evening.

Catholic Ladies of Columbus.
Two applications were received at the meeting of the Catholic Ladies of Columbus, Wednesday evening, in the Knights of Columbus hall.

FUNERALS

Mrs. Edmund Mayfield.
The funeral of Mrs. Edmund Mayfield was held at St. Mary's Catholic church this morning at 9 o'clock. Rev. Father Joseph M. Denning officiated. Interment was made in St. Mary's cemetery.

BUILDING UP YOUR RESERVE STRENGTH

How To Store Up Fighting Power To Resist Disease
If you are strong and well your system has a reserve supply of fighting energy to draw on whenever you are exposed to colds or other diseases, and this energy enables you to throw off and overcome the disease.

But if you find that you are tired, weak or run down in health this reserve supply has been exhausted and unless you can replace it at once you are in danger. Because it supplies the food substances which produce strength and enable you to withstand fatigue and hardship, Father John's Medicine is the common sense tonic, energy-builder for you to take right now. It is guaranteed free from alcohol or dangerous drugs. It is not a stimulant but a nourishing, health-builder by means of which the system stores up energy to be drawn on whenever it is needed.

CENTRALIZED SCHOOL
WAGON HIT BY TRAIN

Just After Driver Unloads Last
Pupil Near Caledonia.

BRADFORD KILE, FIFTY,
IS BUT SLIGHTLY HURT

Wagon Is Splintered, but Both Horses Escape—Man Taken to Caledonia.

Caledonia, O., Sept. 22.—[Special.]—Just after he had unloaded
the last of his pupils, Bradford Kile, aged fifty, centralized school wagon
driver, was caught at Drollsbough's crossing by a westbound Big Four passenger train late Wednesday afternoon. He escaped with his life but suffered a severe bruise above his left eye and his left arm was injured. He was not badly hurt, however.

Kile looked up in time to see the train and gave both horses a cut with the whip. One horse lunged forward but the other held back.
Had the one horse leaped forward
as the other one had done, Mr. Kile believes he would have cleared the train in safety.

The wagon was demolished. The horses ran toward their home only a short distance away. As they clattered over a small bridge near the Kile place Mr. Kile's son heard them. He soon discovered what happened. With his mother he drove to Caledonia a mile and a half distant for a physician fearing that his father had been badly hurt.

The train stopped and took Mr.
Kile to Caledonia, where his injuries
were dressed.

The injured man declared that it was a miraculous accident and he could not understand why he had not seen or heard the train. There was nothing to obstruct his view.

dents enrolled at the opening session of school this year. Forty of these are in the high school grades. This is the largest enrollment in the history of the school and a number of new seats were purchased to accommodate the extra pupils.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Buckingham en-

BUY BONDS NOW.
SAYS BARSON

"Business today is dragging on bottom—our index figure standing
now at seventy-five points below normal compared with 100 points above a few months ago. This means that we are in the sixth period of the business cycle, and that a period of lower money and higher bond prices is at hand.

"You have an opportunity here that will not be equalled in the investment field for several years to come. Buy all the long time bonds
you can carry, right now."

"When interest rates are low bonds are high priced so that they yield only the current rate of interest. Likewise, when interest rates are high, as at present bonds are cheap, so that they yield a high rate of interest. When interest rates are low, as they were a few years ago one should buy short time bonds
because it is not advisable to tie one's money up for a long time at a small return. Today, however, when interest rates are high, the shrewdest investors are buying as long term bonds as they can possibly get. Rockefeller, Morgan, Millen and the other rich men of the country are seeking long-term investments and buying not only bonds that pay a high rate of interest but bonds that do not become due for twenty or thirty years.

"Recently I have been hunting such good issues for some very careful investors and have been surprised to find that most of the new issues have 'callable' features. Many of these issues are callable at any time or after five years, at par or a small premium. The bonds have a great big six, seven or even eight per cent. on them and the date when due, twenty or thirty years hence, is in great big type. This gives an investor to understand that he will get the high rate of interest for twenty or thirty years. Careful examination of bond, however shows that in very small type is a statement that the company, if it desires, can redeem the bond at par or with a small premium at any time or after a few years.

"Investors should watch for these callable features when they buy bonds. They are simply a heads-I-win-tails-you-lose proposition. Investor of the 'companies' If we should get into another war and interest rates remained high, or if the company should have hard luck
then it would pay the investor for twenty or thirty years. But if interest rates should go down as they probably will, and the company is prosperous, as the investor, of course, hopes it will be, then it will simply call the bonds and leave the investor to take a lower rate of interest for the balance of the time.
Thus the big six seven or eight per cent. and the twenty or thirty years
does not mean anything.

"Investors who have trouble in finding new high rate long term investments with reasonable and fair callable features should revert to their old friends the three four and five per cent. bonds that were put out years ago when money rates were
low. When companies could borrow for three, four or five per cent.
they made the bonds just as long term as possible, and they didn't bother to put in any clauses in fine print. For instance the Northern Pacific Railroad company three-per-cent. bonds do not become due until the year 2000, while most of the good railroad bonds were put out for periods of fifty years. As these bonds can now be bought at a discount so as to yield six, seven or eight per cent. even, they should not be forgotten. A $1,000 three and one-half per cent. bond at fifty,

which means that it can be bought for $500, is a better investment than a seven per cent. $1,000 bond at par"—All rights strictly reserved.

WINS RELEASE THROUGH
BROTHER'S PLEA

Despite her heroic work as a Red Cross nurse in the war, Miss Stella Grabowlecki has had to submit to many difficulties in her effort to land in this country. She has finally succeeded, Washington having
wired the immigration authorities at Ellis Island to release
her from detention. Miss Grabowlecki came several days ago to the United States, giving the name of her brother, Frank Grabowlecki as nearest relative. He served in the war with the A. E. F. Unfortunately, he lost his naturalization and discharge papers. He was therefore technically held to be not a citizen.
(Fortunately, he has been able to present ample evidence, even though the papers have been lost, that he is a citizen and a war veteran. His brother's admittance automatically followed.

YEOCK ON SPORTS

New York, Sept. 22.—The American league race is at light as a Pullman window again today. Thanks to a rainstorm that discouraged the Yankees and Tigers and Cleveland's victory over the Red Sox, the Indians have crawled up to within one per cent point of New York in their nose-and-ear dash for the American league pennant.

This situation may prevail tomorrow when Cleveland arrives here for the all-important series of four games that is expected to decide the issue.

The Yankees are not going to be cheated out of the chance to profit by playing the Tigers, however, for they were scheduled to dispose of Wednesday's game at the Polo grounds today and sunny weather was the order.

While the Yankees and Tigers finish their series, the Indians will wind up in Boston and regardless of today's game, there can be but little difference in the standings tomorrow.

The Indians have played two more games than the Yankees, which leaves them in a slightly stronger tactical position, but every point counts now and the pennant may be decided by a margin of points before the race is finished.

BASEBALL

Tagging the Braves.

Caldwell was hit on the hand with a drive off Eddie Foster's bat at Boston and had to retire, but Guy Morton held the Sox safe and Cleveland put across a victory.

The Giants outslugged the Cubs in hard hitting game in which both teams used sixteen players. Shea got credit for the victory.

Mitchell's southpaw slants stopped the Pirates and when rain stopped the game in the eighth Brooklyn was in the van. The defeat dashed the hopes of Pittsburgh fans to oblivion.

The Cards dropped a game to Boston when Watson outlasted four St. Louis pitchers in a free-for-all scoring match.

Tom Phillips, a Washington recruit from New Orleans, won the first game of a double-header from Red Faber. The White Sox helped the Senators crawl back into the first division by dropping the second game to Acosta.

FOOTBALL.

Increased Confidence.

Wooster, Sept. 22.—The week's practice at Severance stadium has increased confidence in Wooster's 1932 football prospects. Coach Boles' team admitted it will not be as strong as last year's aggregation, but it will be an eleven to be reckoned with by all antagonists and particularly those who are seeking championship honors.

WITH THE PUGS

Bill Tate Wins.

Cincinnati, Sept. 22.—Bill Tate, negro heavyweight and former sparring partner of Jack Dempsey, bested Sam Langford in every round of a twelve-round session at Riverside A. C. Covington, last night. Tate's long reach enabled him to keep Sam's head bobbing like a cork on a wave, while his clinching kept Langford from using effective short-arm blows. Langford was game. There was a knockdown, but Tate nearly floored the Boston tarbaby on several occasions.

Frush Knocked Out.

Cleveland, Sept. 22.—Dancer Frush, of Baltimore, knocked out by Johnny Kilbane in the seventh round of their title bout at Dunn field, Saturday, today claims the featherweight crown worn by his aged opponent. He bases his claim on the alleged foul committed by Kilbane in the first round and the fact that in two subsequent sessions Kilbane continued to fight after the bell rang. Frush, who has broken with Sammy Harris, his manager, says he will make his future home in Cleveland.

Tony Cullato Wins.

Tony Cullato, who fought a draw against Dave Butler in the semi-final bout of the Eagle show here September 8, knocked out Dave Charles at Canton, Monday night, in the third round. Cullato stands ready to meet any man in his class and there is a possibility that he will be booked here some time in the winter if the right opponent can be secured. George Reiche, who is a favorite with local boxing fans, has left the stable of Jimmie Dunn in Cleveland to be under the training and management of his brother, William Reiche.

"HOLDING HIS OWN" IS SON, J. W. JACOBY SAYS

Serum Treatment Used To Save Meningitis Victim.

WHO IS TOSSED INTO SPRING AT DELAWARE

Following Class Scrap Between Freshmen and Sophomores at Ohio Wesleyan University.

Bird Jacoby, Ohio Wesleyan university freshman, who is suffering from an attack of spinal meningitis at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilbur Jacoby, of east Church street, is "holding his own," according to announcement made by his father this morning. Young Jacoby has never lost consciousness and, according to telephone information given to Dr. John W. Hoffman, president of Ohio Wesleyan university, last night, by the father here, it is believed the boy will recover. A serum treatment is being used.

Annual Class Scrap. Young Jacoby was a participant in the annual class scrap at Delaware last Thursday night when he was thrown into the spring on the college campus. It was declared today that he was not being hazed at the time, but that teasing students into the spring bowl has been a custom of the university freshmen for many years, and that Jacoby was one of the unfortunate freshmen to get a ducking.

Yesterday's Delaware Gazette says: Bird Jacoby, eighteen, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilbur Jacoby of Marion, who was a freshman in the university, is critically ill at his home in Marion suffering with an attack of spinal meningitis, contracted it is declared, as a result of exposure and manhandling Jacoby says he has been ill since last Friday and that it was during the fresh soph spring fight that he contracted this attack.

At His Classroom. The lad went to his classes Friday but took to his bed Friday evening and on Saturday was removed to his home, where today it is reported his condition is serious.

Young Jacoby says he was fighting with classmates when he was ducked in the spring and was later roughly handled during the height of the interclass battle.

Doctors say he will likely not recover.

MOTHER JOINS HER SONS AFTER LONG SEPARATION

Mrs. Sabback Comes from Damascus To Live Here.

Tosack Sabback has been in New York City the past week. He went to meet his mother, Mrs. Mariam Sabback, and his two sisters, Mrs. Julia Huttal and Wadella Sabback, and Mrs. Huttal's three children, who arrived last Friday evening from Damascus, Syria, to make their future home in this city. They are now visiting their cousins the Michael brothers in New York City, and are expected here either today or tomorrow. Mrs. Sabback and her single daughter will reside at the Joe Elias Sabback home at No. 140 1-2 south Main street, and after a visit here Mrs. Huttal, the oldest daughter, will join her husband, who is in West Virginia.

Mrs. Sabback's entire family is now in America and always expect to reside here. Joe Sabback, owner of the Sugar Bowl, came to this country twenty-three years ago and has not seen his mother since then. Mrs. Sabback is about sixty-five years of age and her husband died in 1908. The sons sent for their mothers and sisters and through the efforts of President Harding and his secretary, George B. Christian, Jr., were able to get them admitted into this country. Before coming here they disposed of all their property in Syria, expecting never to return there.

Joe and Michael came here twenty-three years ago, but Michael returned to Damascus in 1907, the year following his father's death. Three years after that two sons came to America. Henry and Nicholas came here and in 1914 Henry returned to Damascus for his mother, but the war broke out and he was unable to bring her to America. Nicholas and Joe have never been back since they came to this country. George arrived here in 1911 and Tosack, the youngest son just a year ago. All are married except Tosack. Mrs. Sabback has eleven grandchildren. Joe, Michael and Tosack reside in Marion; Michael and his family living at No. 225 Pearl street; Nicholas in Bucyrus; Henry in Toledo; Samuel in Canada and George in Logan, West Virginia.

BIRTHS

A son was born this morning to Mr. and Mrs. William Arthur, of Latourrette street.

A son was born Wednesday to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Frank, of No. 338 west Center street.

A son was born Wednesday afternoon to Mr. and Mrs. Camilla Bartolo, of No. 335 Kenton avenue.

JAMES M. BURNSIDE BURIED AT KENTON

Brother of Dr. C. S. Burnside, of This City.

James M. Burnside, aged sixty-four, for forty years a resident of Hardin county, who died in an Indianapolis hospital after eight months' illness, and who was born in Fairfield county, November 13, 1856, is survived by two sons, Harry and Donald, both of Lima, three sisters, Mrs. J. J. Hastings and Mrs. J. P. Kneisley, of Hardin county, and Mrs. Etta Burnside of Marion county; brothers, Dr. C. S. Burnside, of Marion, M. V. of Marion county; W. J. of Wyandot county; D. F. of Hepburn, and J. W. of Kenton.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the chapel in Grove cemetery and burial will be made at Kenton. Services will be in charge of Rev. D. H. Bailey, of Kenton, formerly of Marion.

With the exception of trouble and children, the more the average man has the more he wants.

EIGHT REGULAR TRAIN CREWS BACK ON ERIE

This is Due to the Increased Business of Road.

TIE AND RAIL BREVITIES PICKED UP HERE AND THERE

Special Train for the Inspection of Bridges Made Up Here for Erie Officials.

Because of increased business the forces of transportation on the Kent division of the Erie have been increased by eight regular train crews and thirty-seven brakemen in the last thirty days. While these are not new men they are men who were laid off and now are back on regular jobs.

The Delaware & Hudson official car, occupied by President Lore, of that road left Chicago last night at 10:30 o'clock on Erie train No. 8, and was detached in Marion this morning.

A special train consisting of the Delaware & Hudson official car, Regional Manager Baldwin's private car No. 993 and another coach left Marion this morning at 7:15 o'clock for Salamanca, New York. Engine No. 520 was furnished for the train here.

A special train for the inspection of bridges was made up here and left for Dayton early this morning. It returned to Marion and left at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon for Huntington, Indiana.

Members of the Ladies' auxiliary, Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, will be the guests of the auxiliary at Huntington, Indiana, September 26, when the Huntington auxiliary will celebrate their twentieth anniversary. About thirty, from the Marion chapter, are expected to attend.

During the six months ended June 30, 1934, $1,354,692.03 was paid by the Pennsylvania railroad to the 6,406 employees on the pension list. The average age of these men is over seventy-three. The pension department was instituted January 1, 1900, and up to the present time has had 13,882 employees on the "Roll of Honor," paying them benefits amounting to $23,911,257.22.

Pension allowance for officers and employees is authorized on the basis of one per cent of the average wage received during the last ten years multiplied by the number of years of service, providing that no pension shall be less than $15 per month. The pension becomes effective automatically when the employee reaches the age of seventy, and, while retiring him from the service the railroad company does not prevent him from engaging in other business.

Ladies' auxiliary, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, celebrated its twenty-seventh anniversary last night with a dinner at the Druid hall, served to nearly 200.

The tables and the room were trimmed in red, purple, and white, the lodge colors. The officers were seated by the degree team, after which, Miss Sarah Alexander was presented with a twenty-five year membership pin. The charter members of the lodge were also presented twenty-five year membership pins.

Following dinner, Miss Harriet Hoover entertained the lodge with toe dancing. The rest of the evening was spent in dancing.

A new system of timekeeping is now in operation at the round-house of the Railway Service company. Near the entrance to the round-house, three covered passage ways have been built and electric lights, timeclocks and card racks have been installed in each. Each of the three shifts has its own separate entrance, its own time clock and its own card racks. Electric lights have been installed and doors have been erected at both ends of each entrance. This plan saves much time over the old plan of getting checks and time slips from the timekeeper's office and is also much more accurate, because the time allowed each man for each day's work is marked on his time-card each day. Nearly 600 men are handled on the three shifts.

Jesse McWhorter, of Cleveland, is visiting for a few days in the city.
